

Make a CHANGE Day

1. Why Hold this Event?

Make a CHANGE Day is one day out of a year when people throughout Japan and also around the world simultaneously take part in volunteer activities and community action projects. It is the perfect opportunity for those who have never participated in such projects and activities to get involved. For those who are already active in this field,

Make a CHANGE Day can help them to develop their own projects and broaden their networks.

By taking part in the community on a regular and systematic base like this and by disclosing participant information and project reports to the public via the media, we hope to contribute to the following in creating “Volunteer Culture”:

1. The participants are able to exhibit the project to a wider public/audience and attract new participants. The project reports will be displayed as successful examples for other communities, and we can expect a flow-on effect through expanding information about various projects and worthwhile causes.
2. Volunteer activities and community projects leave a bigger impact on society.
3. The participants’ experiences are combined, leading to a strong solidarity sense of community within the participants; these experiences help to form a strong foundation upon which projects can develop and expand further.

2. The Flow of the Event

Step 1: Fill out an Entry Form

Please fill out an entry form and send it in.

Deadline: October 31, 2011

✂ Please see “3: How Do I Participate?” for more information.

Data on the entry form will be stored in a database and posted on our homepage, so you can get the word out. Make new friends, meet supporters, and view others’ project plans as well.

Step 2: Action

Put your project plan into action on Make a CHANGE Day, October 22, 2011.

✂ All projects related to Quake Restoration, dating anytime between March 11 to October 31 of 2011, qualify for registration.

Step3: Report your results

Fill in the Project Report Form with the results, records, and the impact of the project in your community. We will prepare a simple form. Mail it in by November 14, 2011.

Your project report will also be stored in a database and posted on our homepage for sharing. We plan on attaching a search engine for easy access to future project contents and references

In middle of December 2011, a panel of judges will review your reports for the award ceremony.

On February 4, 2012, we will hold an award ceremony. This ceremony will be a fun and meaningful event where all attendants will be able to honor each other’s volunteer activities/projects and encourage one another to strive even further.

3. How Do I Participate?

1. Participation

Participation by groups of two or more people are permitted; it can be a family, school, associations (NGO, NPO, community associations, etc.) or any other types of group formations. It can even be a collaborative cluster established from several groups

2. Date

Saturday, October 22, 2011

※ If participation is not possible on this day, please engage in the movement from October 1 to October 31.

All projects related to Quake Restoration, dating anytime between March 11 to October 31 of 2011, qualify for registration.

3. Projects Themes

This year's theme is the "Kizuna"

This year's focus is on restoration after the Great East Japan Earthquake, using it as a chance to dramatically develop "community power" (as characterized by support and unity) that will help reconnect Northeast Japan with the rest of the country. In addition, the United Nations has designated the 10th anniversary of the "International Year of Volunteers" as "IYV + 10 (plus Ten)," and will work to widen volunteer action and community service networks on a global level.
